SEX, SEXUALITY & RELATIONSHIPS

BUILDING RELATIONSHIPS FROM THE 'INSIDE OUT'

We are excited to offer this NEW online course of 7 Modules:

SEX, SEXUALITY & RELATIONSHIPS

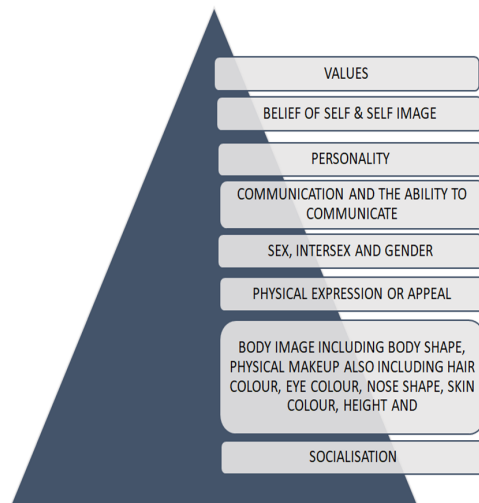

This book opens the conversation! The book's main objective is to give to each reader, the quality of SELF and the value that should be placed on their individuality as a person and within their relationships.

Many people may feel uncomfortable when speaking about sex, sexuality, and relationships. However, these subjects play a critical and important role in your life.

Communities across the world, through either cultural, psychological, religious, and or philosophical reasons, may consider the topics to be taboo, and yet, speaking about the above subjects will improve people's lives, add great value to individual wellbeing and health, and start to limit areas of crime that grow through this lack of knowledge.

ARE YOU LOOKING FROM THE 'INSIDE OUT' OR THE 'OUTSIDE IN?'

Sex and relationships are for all ages, sex and the unity of sexual intercourse, with respect, helps to keep people in good health and wellbeing.

THERE'S MORE TO RELATIONSHIPS THAT SEX...

Each person is different and each person wants from their relationships, different experiences, and not all relationships are of a sexual nature!

For relationships to be successful there needs to be an understanding of another person's values; this course will help people to successfully navigate their relationships so that each person's individual values are respected.

The course also goes into the biological, physiological and psychological aspects of how relationships function.
